OVERVIEW

In 2004 Steve retired from a 40 year working career in Urban Planning and Real Estate Development. Since that event, he has enjoyed volunteer work with The Salvation Army and The Baddour Center, traveling, golf, fishing, and trying to hone his artistic skills from younger years. His top life priorities have always been to "personally make a difference", "push the boundaries of convention", and "consistently break 100".

EXPERIENCE

Industrial Real Estate Development 1982 - 2004

Starting in Atlanta, Steve transitioned from urban planning to industrial development, serving as project manager, new markets research & development, and eventually as regional senior vice president. In 1988 he and his wife moved to Memphis where he was responsible for land acquisition, site planning and development, building design, construction, leasing, sales, and property management for Industrial Developments International (IDI). During his 16 years with IDI, he grew the Midsouth Region to include offices in Memphis, Cincinnati, and Dallas/Fort Worth and was responsible for producing approximately 35,000,000 square feet of warehouse space. During that period IDI was consistently the 1st or 2nd most active industrial developer in the U.S. and one of the most profitable.

Urban, Regional and Energy Planning 1964 - 1981

After obtaining his masters degree, Steve worked for regional planning agencies in Columbus, OH, and Dayton, OH, a Washington, DC planning consultant, and served as Planning Director of DeKalb County, GA. During this time he gained experience in master-planning, zoning, subdivision regulation, urban renewal, economic development, housing, criminal justice planning, and capital improvements programming. Major accomplishments in this phase of his career included:

- Saving a Scenic River in SW Ohio*
- Gaining approval of the Nation's first "Fair Share Housing Plan (Moderate-income) in the Dayton Metropolitan Area*
- Modernizing the planning process and development regulations in DeKalb Co.*
